Summary of Qualifications

Broad research, analysis, and writing experience used to produce books, monographs / technical papers, articles, op-eds, editorials, and blog posts. Extraordinary adaptability has allowed me to publish in science, technology, healthcare, politics, defense, economics and scores of other categories. Nation's leading authority on countering misinformation cascades. Legal training is reflected in research and analytical abilities. Combat journalism experience shows readily handles pressure and extreme situations beyond those required of most writers and scholars.

Professional Accomplishments

Published and publicized five books, co-authored two more, produced two monographs / technical papers, published over 800 articles and columns. Staff writer for three major newspapers, former nationally syndicated columnist, freelancer for major media worldwide. Wrote and delivered over 55 lectures worldwide. Founder and Director, Independent Journalism Project.

Writing is heavily researched, with as many as 3,500 notes in one work. Equally at home with statistics and personal interviews.

Reported for two newspapers with daily deadline pressures. Made dozens of national TV appearances and been on countless radio shows, so comfortable in all communications forums.

Well regarded for conceiving original, contrary to common belief ideas leading to discovery and publication of information years before general media. Over 360 mentions in others' books according to Amazon.com, over 900 citations in Google Scholar.
